Poetry.

Memories.

"There is a Reaper whose name is Death,
And with his sickle keen
He reaps the bearded grain at the breath,
And the flowers that grow between."

Oh my beautiful dreams, ye are fled, ye are fled!
And my heart, with its longing and pain,
Lies crushed 'neath the sod o'er the dead.

I wander alone 'mid the shadows,
With other's more deep on my heart,
And long again for the brightness
Which I fancied would never depart.

I stretch forth my hands, out clasp nothing,
To still the dull throbbing and pain,
And I vainly ask without answer
"Oh why can he not come again?"

In my hearts own garden had blossomed
A flower, more fair and more bright,
Then any the sweet summer breezes
Had e'er welcomed up to the light.

It had smiled back to me in my gladness
For many and many a day;
It had echoed my tones, were they sadness,
Or merrily laughed them away.

But alas for the rosy-hued hours!
My love is buried, for aye;
My darling, my beautiful flower
Withered, and drooped in a day.

In vain all my care and my grief;
Useless my longing and love;
A great one took, and will keep
Safe in His garden above.

"By the side of the River of Life"
It was planted by His loving hand,
Evermore with the pure and the bright
It shall blossom on that golden strand.

Lost from earth—Blooming in Heaven—
My garden is dreary and lone;
And every day, morning and even,
I sit alone, all, all, alone.

But sometime I shall go to the Land
Where "the flowers of Paradise bolom;"
And there, through all the forever,
Never sitting in shadow and gloom,
I shall see thee, 'mong fairest and rarest,—
Of those now "Gone down to the tomb."

Selected Story.

A Right and a Wrong.

A very pretty, very young and thoughtful looking lady sat in a very cosy, comfortable room, in a small house just outside of Paris. She was attired in deep mourning, without an ornament of any description, with the exception of a heavy mourning ring on her left hand, and a very large solitairs diamond on the third finger of her right hand. On her lap she had a huge pile of letters among which she appeared to be seeking for one in particular. Almost opposite to her sat her brother, her only living relative. He was a man of about forty, with an air of aristocracy about him that would have graced any court. He was reading, or apparently reading a newspaper, but his thoughts were far from the journal in his hand, he was thinking how two years ago his sisters were brought home from school, not to enter into a life of gayety and happiness, but to attend the funeral of their father and to hear that the fortune they had thought would come to them did not exist, except in the mind of their father, who since the death of his wife had been at times childish.—Then came the breaking up of their residence in Paris, and the removal to their present humble abode, which Annetta had converted into a paradise by her effective, cheerful disposition and excellent management. All this passed through the mind of Maurice Drone as he peeped over his paper at his sister. Her occupation seemed to cause him very unpleasant thoughts, for his brow knit, and he commenced to bite the newspaper.—The rattle of the paper attracted the notice of his sister. She ceased her employment and said in an alarmed tone, looking at her brother.

"What is it, Maurice?"

"Those are letters of Carl's, are they not?"

"Yes, Maurice," bashfully replied Annetta.

"You take too deep an interest in them—your entire heart is in them, and no woman should give her entire heart except to her husband."

"But Carl will be that soon, and with your approval I thought, Maurice."

"My approval was given to your marriage, not to the neglect of Carl."

"Something may detain him."

"Nothing can, Annetta—nothing should detain him from your side two weeks within your marriage—you know it, Annetta," replied her brother with emphasis.

"Oh! brother, don't be harsh to me. I know you are right, and the thought that Carl has grown careless has been torture to my mind."

A burst of tears followed this appeal, and in an instant the paper was flung aside, and Maurice took Annetta in his arms and wiped and kissed away the tears.

"I am a fiend to cause you grief, but it was partly your fault—you should have told me your doubts."

"I know it, but we are over anxious to defend those we love, especially from the bad opinion of other loved ones," sobbed Annetta.

"Quite right, Annetta; now tell me what you think?"

"Carl's letter, dated two weeks ago, said he would be home five days after his letter. He never told me anything so positive without it came to pass. I did think I might have made a mistake, but I have just looked at his letter, and it is as I say—five days from the receipt of is letter."

Then something has happened to detain him. I will go at once to his club and to his lodgings, and if they know nothing, he must at least be fickle."

"Hush, brother, we will not think of such a thing."

"We will see and at once."

And with a good by kiss, Maurice left his sister to her thoughts and his letters.

Carl von Stein was by birth a German, but he had been bred in France, and beyond his name and perfect pronunciation of the German language, there was nothing German about him. He was young, had no occupation, beside the management of a large estate, to which he attended entirely himself, until it became too much for him, and he engaged the services of Maurice Drone just at the time Maurice was without employment, after the death of his father. The business transactions between Carl and Maurice, led to social intercourse, which, of course, included Annetta, who was delighted with her brother's friend: in fact, so delighted, that when, through her brother, he asked for her hand, she gave it freely with her heart. The solitaire diamond sealed the compact, and the intimacy between Carl and Maurice convinced the world that Carl was really going to be guilty of such a misalliance as to marry Annetta Drone, though the world did not stop to observe that only in point of money was there the slightest misalliance. Maurice had insisted upon a speedy marriage, and to which both interested parties had given their consent.

Carl was obliged to go to Germany to settle much of his property, but it was with a promise of a quick return that he left Annetta to prepare for the happiest event of their lives. He wrote constantly, and at last announced his return; but, as has been seen, he failed to retuon and thus caused doubt to enter the mind of Maurice, and anguish to that of Annetta's.

Maurice returned toward dusk to Annetta, who had passed an anxious restless, day. She read fresh cause for grief on his face, and she turned away unable to question, but eager to hear.

"Carl is safe and does not intend to return to Paris. He has resigned his membership of the club—given up his lodgings, and made preparations for, perhaps, his lifetime. You have been deceived, Annetta, and you have no one left but your brother; seek no other companion, for when Carl has been false, there can be no truth in man."

"Not just yet, Maurice, can I bear to hear him spoken of thus. I must first accustom my heart to the idea of his falseness, ere my ear can listen to such words. I will be brave under this blow. I have you left, Maurice, and never will I seek other friend. Don't notice me if I seem at times weary of this life, and never mention the name of Carl von Stein to me again."

Without fainting, turning pale, or ranting, Annetta busied herself in attending to her brother's comfort. The only apparent change in her was perhaps a shade more of tenderness in her voice—a touch more of affection in her manner, and a weary, wistful look in her eyes. All of which Maurice forbore to notice, except by fond caresses, and almost lover like attentions.

So did the dreary winter pass to brother and sister.

Where, all this time, was Carl? Far away in a little German village celebrated for its pretty peasants and its lovely scenery, which Carl had been by his love of the beautiful, permitted to see. It would not interfere with his return to Annetta, and by exploring the village of G——, he might find an additional spot of interest for their wedding tour. With that idea, and that alone, Carl started on horseback for G——, four days before he intended to return. The air was beautiful, and giving his thoughts entirely up to Annetta, he grew careless. Alas! for the result.—His horse slipped and fell, causing Carl to fall also, striking his back severely.—He remembered nothing more until three days (as he was informed), he awoke to consciousness, and found one of the loveliest young peasants fancy could picture sitting by his side knitting, and stooping occasionally to sigh and wipe away a tear. He questioned her, and learned all. He had met with an accident, and been brought into the nearest cottage, a doctor sent for, and everything done for him that was possible.

"But I am well now?"

"Alas, that is the worst of it," replied the peasant, whose name was Rosa.

"What do you mean?"

"Your back has been injured, and you must not move for many weeks."

"I cannot stay here?"

"That you cannot," said a gruff voice, and a coarse woman, also, walked into the neat little room.

"Forbear!" said Rosa.

"This woman is right, Rosa, I must be gone." Carl tried to move, but found it impossible. "I cannot move," he said.

"Can you pay, then, to remain here?" heartlessly inquired the woman, who was no other than the mother of Rose.

"Pay, is that your fear? I can buy your entire village out," Carl replied, not meaning to boast, but wishing to pacify the woman.

"Then you may remain, and Rosa shall nurse you," quickly rejoined the woman.

"No, no, I cannot; I don't——

"You won't desert me, surely Rosa?" pleaded Carl.

"No; I will nurse you, then, if you wish it."

"I command it," playfully replied Carl. And thus the matter was settled.

Carl was fearful to frighten Annetta uselessly; therefore he determined to wait for a week; if, then, he could not move, he would write to Maurice. It was a terrible mistake on his part, but it was all through kindness.

The week went by, and still another, and there was no improvement. Rosa had been faithful almost to a fault. It made Carl fearful, he knew not of what, such devotion. He was about to talk to her on the subject, when her mother burst into the room, livid with rage.

"You must get out of my house at once," she screamed to Carl,

"Where fore, woman? I will pay you well."

"You cannot pay me for Rosa's good name; the villagers have cried shame on your being here; they will not even receive Rosa in any of their houses while you remain here, and I have no place to send her out of the village."

"What can cause this sudden outburst?" asked Carl, feeling deeply for Rosa, who stood stembling.

"The love Rosa, has for you, she disguises it not—it is written in her pale cheek, her anxious care of you, and her sleepless, restless nights—it is out of her saying you have been provided for, and it is through her tears and prayers we keep you—now tell me, am I right to feel outraged?"

"You have a perfect right. You tell me it is to Rosa I owe my life?" asked Carl.

"Entirely."

"What say you, Rosa?

"I was but human," replied Rosa.

"How long have I been lying here?"

"Three weeks."

"Then she thinks me dead—better so than know me false," muttered Carl himself.

"What do you say? asked the infuriated woman.

"Bring the priest, and I will tell you. You may remain, Rosa," said Carl, nolding out his hand to detain her.

What he said to her none ever knew exactly, nor was what he said to the priest ever known, but three weeks after Carl was married to Rosa. The ceremony, was imposing, being performed by the bedside of Carl. From that day he seemed to grow worse, until he finally sank into unconsciousness, lasting for a week, out of which he emerged a better but a sadder man. He was soon able to walk, and he then attended to all his affairs, took Rosa away to travel on the Continent—if possible to find for himself forgetfulness—for the right and the wrong he had done. He was in part successful. Rosa, once free from her peasant associates, became a loving, loveable, intelligent, devoted wife, and Carl was but human. He never forgot Annetta, but he learned to love his lovely wife.

He learned with regret that Maurice had given up all attention to his property, and refused to receive remuneration for his services of the past few months. Of Annetta he never heard. Three years rolled by, and all this time Carl had settled in no particular place; but now he determined to settle in London, which he did. He placed his wife at the head of an elegant establishment, and became noted as a most attentive husband. He had not been long in London before he heard through his steward of the death of Maurice. Then did his thoughts fly to Annetta. Where was she? What was she to do alone in the world? These and like thoughts tortured him. His wife noticed his preoccupation, and asked its cause.

"Nothing, Rosa," he replied.

"Are you too ill to entertain our guests to night?"

"No; only don't notice me. I am not very well"

"I am sorry."

"I know it, darling; but it will pass."

And any one to have seen Carl at night would have thought he had not a care,

The guests arrived slowly, until they numbered about twenty.

"Not many to entertain," thought Carl.

But at that moment was announced Lord and Lady T.

"How is this?" Carl could not refrain from saying aloud.

"A surprise to you, Carl," replied Rosa, at his elbow. "Look," she continued, "is she not beautiful, and is he not handsome?"

Carl looked and stood transfixed; it was Annetta who entered on the arm of her distinguished husband, Lord T.

They met, shook hands, and the proud manner in which Annetta introduced her noble husband brought relief to the mind of Carl, for it showed him Annetta's heart was her husband's. Carl offered his arm to Annetta, she accepted, and they strolled to the music room.

"You forgive?" Carl could not refrain from saying, gazing in admiration at the lovely creature on his arm,

"Your wife has told me her story. I somehow won her confidence. My presence here is meant to indicate my forgiveness and approval," sweetly replied Annetta.

"You are, then, happy?" questioned Carl.

"So very, very happy. And you?"

"Perfectly, from this night. For now there are two rights and no wrong."

The Impeachment Proceedings.

On the 19th ult., in the Senate a House message was received announcing that the House had elected a board of managers to impeach W. W. Holden, Governor of North Carolina, and that the committee will bring articles to the Senate when it is the pleasure of the Senate to receive them.

On motion of Mr. Jones the Senate voted to send a message to the House, that the Senate will receive the committee with articles of impeachment to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

The House Committee, accompanied by the entire House, entered at the time specified, and the Senate rose to receive them.

Door Keeper.—Mr. President, a committe of the House of Representatives.

Chair.—Invite the Honorable Committee to come forward. The members of the House of Representatives will, so many as can get seats, please be seated to the right of the chair.

The House being seated, the Chair said: The Senate will now hear the message of the House of Representatives.

The Committee standing, their chairman said:

Mr. President, We, the managers of the House of Representatives, are a committee empowered to bring to the Senate and deliver to you, it being your desire now to receive them, ARTICLES OF IMPEACHMENT against William W. Holden, Governor of North Carolina, and we do so deliver said articles in the name of the people of North Carolina, and do demand that the Senate take order thereon.

The Lieutenant Governor responded;

The President of the Senate, in behalf of the Senate receives the articles of impeachment in behalf of the House. The Door Keeper will make proclamation.

The Door Keeper then, under the instruction of the Lieut. Governor, made the following proclamation:

"O yes, O yes, O yes!—all persons are commanded to keep silence, on pain of imprisonment, while the House of Representatives gives to the Senate, Articles of Impeachment against W. W. Holden, Governor of the State."

Chair:—The Articles of Impeachment will now be read by the Clerk.

The articles having been read, the Lieut. Governor said:

Gentlemen, Managers, and Members of the House of Representatives: Articles of Impeachment having been exhibited in the Senate against W. W. Holden, Governor of North Carolina, it becomes my duty as presiding officer of the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate will take proper order on the subject of Impeachment, of which due notice will be given to the House of Representatives.

The House then withdrew and Lieut. Gov. Caldwell said:

Senators: It now becomes my duty, under the Constitution and laws of the State, to retire for the time being from this chair, as your presiding officer, to take charge of another department of the government. Allow me, Senators, before I retire, to return to you, individually and as a body, my unfeigned thanks for the courtesy, kindness, and consideration which you have always extended to my efforts as your presiding officer. The Senate will now proceed to elect a Speaker, pro tem. in the Senate.

Mr. Robbins, of Rowan, said: Senators I move that the Senator from Anson be temporarily called to the Chair. The motion was carried.

Mr. Dargan took the Chair.

Motions for President ad interim being in order, Mr. Robbins, of Rowan, nominated Mr. Warren.

Mr. Gilmer nominated Mr. Graham.
Mr. Troy nominated Mr. Dargan.
Mr. Epps nominated Mr. Brogden.
Mr. Worth nominated W. M. Robbins

The vote being taken, Mr. Warren received 36 votes, Mr Graham 4, Mr. Dargan 1, Mr. Brogden 1.

Mr. Warren having been conducted to the chair thanked the Senate for the compliment.

After protracted deliberation, the Senate voted that the Chief Justice be requested to appear in the Senate on Friday to organize the Court, ayes 24, nays 18.

Articles of impeachment were ordered to be printed.

These are the charges upon which impeachment is demanded:

Article 1st, impeaching the Governor for unlawfully sending troops into Alamance county, and unlawfully restraining certain citizens of their liberties.

Article 2d, in relation to corruptly proclaiming Caswell county in a state of insurrection and through the instrumentality of a band of lawless men, desperadoes seizing and restraining of their libertics certain citizens of said county.

Article 3d, in reference to the unlawful assault and arrest of Josiah Turner, Jr., of Orange county in the streets of Hillsborough.

Article 4th, in reference to the seizure and detention of John Kerr, Sam. P. Hill and many other citizens of Caswell county.

Article 5th, in reference to the Governor refusing to obey a writ of habeas corpus, issued by Judge Pearson, in behalf of A. G. Moore, of Alamance county.

Article 6th, in reference to the refusal to make returns to the writs of habeas corpus for the appearance of certain citizens of Caswell, unlawfully held in confinement by his order.

Article 7th, in reference to organizing, equipping and arming a band of desperadoes from this State and Tennessee, which were placed under the command of three other Tennessee desperadoes, to-wit, Kirk, Burgin and Yates, and hurling them upon the people of Alamance and Caswell counties, and confining Josiah Turner, Jr., and F. A. Willey in a dungeon, &c.

Article 8th, in reference to drawing enormous sums from the Treasury of the State to further these criminal and unlawful military movements.

On Friday the 23d in the Senate at 12 o'clock the Chief Justice entered, accompanied by Messrs. Jones and Lehman.

Pausing at the door Mr. Jones said: Mr. President, your committee empowered to wait on the Chief Justice would announce to the Senate that the Chief Justice is present.

The President: The Chief Justice will come forward and take the seat of the presiding officer.

The Chief Justice having assumed his seat, said:

Senators: Having been notified by the Senator from Yadkin and Surry, I am present to take part in forming a court for the trial of the Governor of the State.

There is one question which has been called to my attention. I noticed that in the trial of the United States the Chief Justice of the United States thought he must take an oath, because the Constitution of the United States does not make that part of his official duty. The view that I take of it is that inasmuch as by the Constitution it is made a part of my official duty to take this part, I think the oath I have already taken is enough. Therefore I shall not take another, unless Senators think it proper. I have consulted with some members, and they agree with me in this view. I suppose that it is not necessary for me to mention that I intend, of course, to do my duty impartially and according to law, and that would be the substance of the oath.

After a slight delay the Chief Justice added: There being no suggestion to that effect, I will direct the Secretary of the Senate to call the roll of Senators, with a view to having the oath administered.

The following Senators were present: Messrs. Adams, Allen, Bellamy, Brogden, Cook, Council, Currie, Crowell, Cowles, Epps, Fleming, Gilmer, Graham, Hawkins, Hyman, Jones, King, Lassiter, Moore, Norment, Olds, Price, Robbins, of Davidson, Robbens, of Rowan, Skinner, Taoy, Warren, Whitesides and Worth.

The Senators then took the following oaths. I swear, truly and impartially, to try and determine the charges of the Articles of Impeachment against William W. Holden, Governor of the State of North Carolina, under the Constitution and laws thereof, according to evidence. So help me God.

The Chief Justice then said:

Senators, the oath having been administered according to law, I now announce that the Court of Impeachment is organized for the purpose of proceeding to trial. The first matter to be considered is that resolutions adopted by the Senate in its legislative capacity are not binding upon this body in its character as a court. It is necessary for you to adopt, if such be your pleasure, rules of proceeding, in addition to the act known as the Impeachment Act, which is of course binding on you as the law of the land.

On motion of Mr. Graham, it was ordered that the rules adopted by the Senate be the rules of this body till further orders.

Also that the Principal Clerk of the Senate notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is now organized for the trial of the Impeachment of William W. Holden, Governor of North Carolina, and is ready to receive the Managers of the Impeachment at its bar.

The Rules were then read, and the Door keeper made his proclamation.

An oath was then administered to the Clerk and to the Doorkeeper.

The Clerk reported that the Managers would attend at one o'clock for the purpose of making known their action.

It being half past 12, the court took a recess till one.

The Senate resumed its functions, the President in the Chair.

The bill authorizing county commissioners to fill vacancies passed its third reading.

ONE O'CLOCK P. M.

Court convened.

The managers entered, and Mr. Sparrow their Chairman said:

Mr. Chief Justice: We are instructed by the House of Representatives as its managers, to demand that the Senate take process against W. W. Holden; that he may answer at the bar of the Senate upon the articles of impeachment heretofore preferred by the House of Representatives through its managers before the Senate.

On motion of Mr. Lehman, the court ordered that summons do issue to William W. Holden, Governor of the State of North Carolina to appear at the bar of the Senate to answer articles of impeachment issued against him, and that summons should be returned forthwith.

A form of summons read by Mr. Graham was adopted by the Court, and issued accordingly.

The Chief Justice announced that the Governor had responded to the summons, and would appear by counsel, Mr. Badger.

Mr. Badger then came forward and read the Governor's response, asking thirty days time to fill his answer.

The Chairman desired to know whether the Governor would wish further time for preparation for trial.

Mr. Badger replied that the Governor will ask no further time if by diligent and active work he is able to appear before this honerable body. The articles were presented on Monday last, and came to the Governor's knowledge late Tuesday evening. He has not had time to consult counsel. I will say this that the Governor will throw no delay in the way of a speedy trial.

Ch. J.—And you do not anticipate any now.

Mr. Badger—We do not anticipate any now.

On motion of Mr. Graham it was ordered that the respondent file his answer to the Articles of Impeachment on or before the 23rd day of January next, and that the managers file their replication within six days thereafter, and that the matter stand for trial on the 30th day of January 1871.

The Chief Justice thereupon announced the Court adjourned till 23rd prox.

A Plea for the Little Toe.

We confess to being unable to understand why the Lord ever made a little toe on the human biped unless he made it for a perpetual penance, for it is purely a sacrificial little toe. But then we have often wondered why He made mosquitoes, fleas and snakes. The unavailing knowledge which the latter imparted to Eve, to the everlasting sorrow of her multitudinous daughters, to our mind was not cause sufficient for the making of the temptor. Thus through much tribulation we have come to the conclusion that the Lord made him, and little toes also, to torment us, of course because a little wholesome torment is good for us.

But it is not agreeable, and we would like to mitigate it. For we really think that little toes have "rights" as well as men, babies and women, which all shoemakers are bound to respect. Why don't they then? We devoutly believe that there is not a shoemaker in the universe who by any means pleasanter than the pillory could be brought to allow space in the boot to hold the helpless little toe. We speak with the unction of experience. We have planted a foot on a piece of paper as wide as it would spread, and, while the shoemaker followed the outline, have conjured him to leave room for that little toe. He never did it. Numerous untarnished boots, hanging against the wall, bear expressive witness to the inhumanity and utter lack of anatomical knowledge in shoemaking men. No wonder a girl out West had her little toes chopped off. And no wonder the young lady in Hartford had such sore feet on her wedding day that she could not stand up to be married. The only wonder is that our women stand up at all, much more that they walk, which by the way, they do more badly than any women under the sun except the Chinese. We used to pity the poor Chinese women, but have transfered our compassion to our country women. Look at them as they pass by your window some bright day! The wretched fiction of a "Grecian bend," the wretched fact of laced up lungs, cannot wholly account for that feeble, teetering, gasping walk, a walk utterly devoid of vitality, elasticity or grace; but looking down; the wretched little boot with its French heel, bringing the whole weight of the body upon the toes, explains it all. And this creature, with cramped nerves and muscles, partial and feeble circulation, is to be the mother of men! Whew!

The ungarnished fact is that Americ can women are fast becoming a nation of cripples. Nothing can prevent their growing to be such, unless there is an entire and radical change in the shape of their shoes. Girls respect the rights of your little toes. If you don't they will turn and rend you.

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW.

With the New Year we begin the second half of the second Volume of the NORTH CAROLINIAN. Believing in Progress and Improvement we will make an effort to practice what we preach by endeavoring to make each succeeding number of our paper still better than the preceeding one.

But the present—at the close of the Old Year and the opening of the New—is a fitting time for sober thought and we indulge in it.

The Old Year is gone, and how did we note it? Was it by the mere passing of moments, hours, days, weeks and months, or the shadows that the dial of Time has thrown around and about us? What was it—the Year just passed from our sight? A ship freighted for a distant shore; a sand falling from the hour-glass of the universe; a thought dropped from the treasury of Heaven; a single note struck on the mighty harp of nature—its echoes never ending!

What has the Old Year seen? A thrilling question—a fearful answer. It has seen hearts broken, youth withered, hopes crushed, wrong triumphant. It has looked, in clear starry nights, through frost bound windows, upon pale women struggling with cold and weariness that children might have bread! It has gazed through jail bars in the moonlight, and beheld the prisoner wrestling in his dreams with the bloody phantom of his murdered victim. It has stood by the gallows, bent over the dying babe, sighed with the parting of the bride, mourned over sinking wrecks, watched where orphans knelt and called upon their loved and lost. And, too, it has counted through its noiseless hours, the feeble pulses of dying statesmen, whose loss have cast a deep shadow over the length and breadth of the land. It has beheld Princes and Queens mourn for their illustrious dead. It has noted the humble grief that followed the tiny coffin from a lowly cottage, with brow serene as that which, under costly trappings, with its gilded shroud in crape, moved in long procession to the beating of a million hearts.

Again it has seen and noted the brighter side. It has witnessed the crown of roses unwithered on the brow of beauty and the light grow purer in "holy eyes of blue." It has taken note of many "a good deed" in this "naughty world." Fair forms threading through narrow streets, and jewelled fingers holding the cup of cold water to the fevered lips of the poor man. It has known hearts under silken vestments that have throbbed and warmed to the story of the hapless unfortunate. Aye, and it has witnessed the operations of a thousand agencies to improve and better the condition of humanity. And then it passed away, with its well filled record, to lay it before the throne of the eternal. Peace be to thee Old Year!

To the New we bid right hearty welcome. May we make fresh gardens in our hearts at thy coming—sowing the good seed that drops from between thy leaves, that at the close of thy pilgrimage thou mayest bind up many sheaves of good deeds and garner them safely and secure in the granery of the eternal world.

THE NEW INDIAN POLICY—OVER A MILLION SAVED.

We have frequently called public attention to the good results growing out of the new Indian policy inaugurated by the present Administration. It is no longer to be regarded as an experiment; it has been demonstrated to be a success. Under the Friend's Agency system Appriations have been honestly expended and Bureau expenses reduced over one million of dollars. Nor is this all. The tendency among the Indians to settle on lands and adopt the habits of civilization is increasing.

These results may well be regarded as among the "great fruits" of President GRANT's Administration. Indeed had it done nothing more than rescue our Indian affairs from the errors and rascality that have heretofore characterized their managment, it would deserve the gratitude of the country. From the days of WILLIAM PENN to the present time the Indians have regarded the Quakers as their Friends; and from that time to this the latter have felt an interest in the wellfare of the Red Man. It was eminently proper then that the President, knowing these facts, should have felt an anxiety to test the experiment of the Quaker policy in treating with the Indians, and it must be gratifying to him to see that it is operating just as he, in his judgment, had predicted it would.

The central idens of the new policy are to break up the "tribal relations" and bring the civilizing agencies produced by government to bear directly upon the individual. By no longer treating the tribes as nations, the endless difficulties flowing from treaties and their violation are avoided, and that personal responsibility is brought about which is so essential to individual growth in civilization. The Indian is emancipated from the absolute influence of the Chiefs and taught the duties and responsibilities of the free and independent citizen. These results are gradually, but surely, being accomplished by this new policy of the Administration.

The closing days of the Legislature before the holidays were taken up with the preliminary steps for the Impeachment trial. See proceedings on our first page. It adjourned over to the 16th.

WHAT THE SOUTH NEEDS.

Every Northern man, and especially every traveler from New England, as he passes through this country is struck with the contrast, first, in respect to soil and climate; and secondly, in respect to improvements and business activity. In New England the climate is cold and the soil is barren, aye as sterile and barren as barrenness can make it. Rock and stone everywhere! And yet despite the rocks and gravel the country is rich. The wealthy have palatial residences, the poor have comfortable homes, business is prosperous. They cover their rocks with flowers and extract wealth from the unpromising conditions of soil and climate.

And how is this done? One word answers the query—Manufactures. Every town, and every village, and every City in New England makes something. They do not depend upon the mere purchase of produce and the sale of goods for business; everywhere they produce something. They draw population from the whole world, and are thus enabled to increase their numbers, and at the same time to fill the West and the South with their hardy sons and fair daughters.

Now let us ask the question, Why should not the South do as New England has done and is doing? Why should we continue to send our Lumber, our Cotton and our Grain to the North to be manufactured, all of which comes back, with freight and profits added, to the very men who produce them? Can anyone give us a good reason why the North should monopolize all the more profitable pursuits of life and keep us growing Corn and Cotton only? Why should not the towns and cities of the South do a great share of this themselves?

It is more than nonsense to say that the South cannot manufacture. Old England said so of New England, but New England energy and ingenuity found a way to do it nevertheless. True it takes money, but the time has come when money thus invested will pay. Let us have the farm and factory side by side; let the farmer find a market within sight of his fields. When this time comes the South will far outstrip New England in prosperity.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SAN DOMINGO AS A NAVAL PORT.

When the question of the annexation of the Island of San Domingo to the United States was first broached we confess that we did not look upon it favorably. Since then we have thought more upon it, and as the result view the subject in a different light. Indeed our past experience as well as the experience of older nations teaches the advantage of acquiring important footholds as bases of operations in seasons of hostilities. San Domingo is one of the most important of the West India Islands, and it is in every respect fitted to make it a first-class base of operations in time of war. Other nations do not hesitate in embracing every opportunity to control strategetic points. Here is one opening for us to obtain peaceable possession of what must become the key to the Gulf. Once in our posession we never more need be in the humiliating position of submitting to severe losses to our shipping at the hands of buccaneering Alabamas that never could have kept afloat one month in the face of the possession by us of a naval base in the West Indies. It will make a splendid coaling station for our vessels, proving an advantage to us in time of peace as well as in time of war. That the latter may never come is our sincere hope, but is it wisdom to neglect points that would aid and strengthen us in the event of being compelled to again pass through the sad ordeal?

HON. TOD R. CALDWELL.

This gentleman is now the acting Governor of North Carolina. He is a native of this State, is about fifty years of age, and is a lawyer by profession. He was a Henry Clay Whig, and throughout the war was a strong friend of the Union He has served several terms in the Legislature and was elected Lieutenant Governor by the Republicans. He is a man of strong good sense, is firm in advocating what he believes to be right, is popular with the people and is acknowledged by all parties to be an honest man.

THE NORTH CAROLINA DELEGATION.

The residences of the members of the Congressional delegation from North Carolina in Washington will be found below:

Hon. John Pool, St. Clare Hotel; Hon. Jos. C. Abbott, 1320 F. Street; Hon. Clinton L. Cobb, S. W. Cor. G. and eleventh Sts.; Hon. Joseph Dixon, 906 F. St.; Hon. John Manning, 320 Eighth St. N. W.; Hon. Oliver H. Dockery, Ebbit House; Hon. Alexander H. Jones, Continental Hotel; Hon. Israel G. Lash,——; Hon. Francis E. Shober, Metroplitan Hotel.

We had intended to publish the Articles of Impeachment against the Governor, but on reading them over we find that notwithstanding their great length the whole matter of the eight articles could very easily have been simmered to a dozen lines. Nothing is said about railroad swindles, not a word about swamp land frauds. How the Democratic papers and speakers rung the changes on all these, but now when they might have a chance to "make them good" they are mysteriously mum! The whole charge is summed up in the Governor's military movements.

Let the results of the Impeachment of Gov. HOLDEN be what it may before the present partizan Legislature of North Carolina, it will give him an opportunity to justify his official acts before the world. We are neither his apologist nor defender, but we do not justify the attempt to hound him down. He may have made mistakes and we admit that he committed blunders, but that he has been guilty of the "crimes and misdemeanors" charged we have seen no evidence.

Congress having adjourned over the holidays convened again yesterday.

All the boasting of the Democrats about retrenchment, reform and low wages has resulted in voting themselves $5 per diem and 20 cents mileage. At the present premium on gold and prices of living the wages of "the hands" will equal what they were before. We have long watched the course of these Democrats. They are apt to say one thing before the election and do quite another after. The people are watching them.

The newspaper should be independent It should be untrammeled and free. Thus it may be an educator and corrector of public opinion in advance of the general level and average. It should be liberal; its aspirations and purposes should be generous; but in its advocacy of truth it should be firm. Conducted in this way the newspaper is of incalculable value.

We call attention to the great National Family Newspaper—the New York Tribune—whose prospectus appears on our fourth page.

The publishers of Every Saturday, encouraged by the remarkable and unprecedented favor which has been bestowed upon their Journal, have the pleasure of announcing that henceforth the paper will be permanently enlarged to twenty-four pages of its present size. Notwithstanding the great increase in cost consequent upon the enlargement, no change will be made in the price.

Every Saturday will thus become the largest and handsomest illustrated journal in America; and the cheapest paper of its size and class in the world. This enlargement is found necessary to enable the Publishers to carry out fully the plans they have formed for making the paper the leading illustrated weekly of America:

They do not intend to rely for their main attractions upon foreign pictures alone, but have made arrangements with the best American artists for original drawings, which will represent American life, scenery, and character to an extent never before attempted.

Prominence will be given to the editorial department of the journal. Beginning with the new year, there will be introduced several fresh editorial features which it will be the aim of its conductors to make of general and permanent interest,

The success which has attended the publication of the present volume of Every Saturday, has convinced the Publishers that there is a large constituency of readers in this country ready to support a really first-class illustrated paper, and it is the intention of the conductors by a liberal use of the facilities at their command to continue to place before their readers each week a journal which by the excellence of its literary, artistic, and mechanical features will find a hearty welcome from all classes of people throughout the land. Address,

WASTING THE PEOPLES' MONEY.

The Legislature met in this City on Monday the 21st of November. It has been in session thirty-four days. at an expense of one thousand dollars per day. THIRTY FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS of the people's money spent, and what has been done? What benefit has the people received from this outlay? None. Beyond passing a few bills amending the charters of several cities and towns, so as to give a minority power to control the majority, and disfranchising colored men, the Legislature has done nothing—absolutely nothing. The Democrats came here to relieve the people. They have done so by carrying away THIRTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, without passing any measure calculated to advance the interest of the State a particle. The whole legislation has been for the sole purpose of making party capital, and to secure the future success of the Democratic party. In addition to this, the Governor is now impeached. This trial will cost the State not less than ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS. It will delay legislation, and consume valuable time, and unnecessarily consume the people's money. In addition, an effort was made to call a Convention, and saddle the people with another HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS of expense. If such a Legislature is economical, we would like to know what constitutes an expensive one? Great has been the cry of extravagance by the Democrats, but they take care to dip their hands as deep in the public crib as possible. We fear they will never get another chance. We hope they never will.—Standard.

A Few Questions.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

In your last issue you gave an interesting account of the condition of the schools of our town. I have always been a friend of education, and as such I take the liberty to suggest a few ideas in relation thereto, touching the customs, and possibly the laws that in my opinion need correction. I am not well versed in the school laws of our State; I will therefore ask a few questions for information, submitting a few remarks, without arrogating to myself superior knowledge, but merely to stir up the thinking mind, that errors wherever found may be corrected and the best interests of our whole people promoted. First, Does the law give the teacher or the school commissioners any claim upon the time of the scholar before or after school hours? Secondly, does it authorize the teacher to compel a scholar to devote a portion of his time during school hours to any thing else than his proper studies?

Thirdly, has the teacher authority by law to expel a scholar from school without a hearing before the Board of Commissioners?

Now in relation to the first question, if answered in the affirmative, I would say that the law needs to be corrected; if in the negative then public opinion should at once demand that authority not vested by law should in no case be exercised by the teacher. I allude especially to the practice of one school at least, (I am not informed as to the others,) of compelling scholars to make the morning fires in the school room. In cold weather this should be done at least one hour before school convenes. Now I hold that the time of my children or those under my care, belongs to me until school time, and that the teacher, or school commissioners, has or should have no control over it; in the next place the scholar who is appointed to make the fires may be unable to attend school that day; the consequence then is that the hour for opening school arrives and the house is not in comfortable order which should in no case be possible.

In relation to the second question which has reference to scholars being required to cut the wood, I would say, that the taxes of the people should not only pay the teacher, but provide houses furnished with the necessary equipments including fuel prepared for use. My reasons for this will be found in the suggestions which follow.

The third question arises from a teacher having announced to his pupils, as I have been informed, that if any one of them failed to make the morning fires in good time when directed by him so to do, he could for such failure either whip or expel him at his option. Now a word or two on these points and I am done.

In States where the common school system has been in successful operation for nearly forty-years, making improvements however from time to time, as wisdom and experience may have dictated, it has become the settled practice of the Board of School Directors to employ teachers at a stipulated salary to teach the schools agreeably to the requirements of the law; the Directors on their part furnishing houses in proper condition and fuel prepared for use; also employing some one to make the morning fires, unless as is often the case, the teacher agrees to perform that service or get some one to do it. which is considered in his salary.

The objections to the scholars cutting the wood are, that in very many cases it would devolve on a few. Some persons may have none but girls or quite small children to send, while others who pay their just share of taxes have the time of their boys additionally taxed, and that too, when they should be employed at their studies, to prepare the wood which is for the common benefit.

In relation to the third question. In whom is the authority to expel a scholar vested? Allow me to say that this is a very important trust, which should be exercised in all cases with great caution, and never given to one individual. The taxpayers have rights, and they should be protected by law, so that no child could be deprived of the boon of a common school education, except for incorrigibly bad conduct, fairly proven before the Board of officers, whose duty it should be, to decide impartially in the case, and while a reasonable hope may be entertained that the habits of the scholar can be corrected or sufficiently improved, by any other means, expulsion should not be resorted to.

I have no motive in making these suggestions, other than the general improvement and advancement towards perfection of a system which has for its object the education of the masses, and which if properly conducted is destined to wield a power for good in the land which future generations will realize more than the present, when statesmen shall rise from humble origin, the halls of legislation resound with their eloquence, and the helm of State be safely guided by their wisdom;—looking back to the common school as the starting point to eminence, they will bless the hour that gave birth to the system, and the philanthropy of the age whose perseverance made it a permanent institution. The Poor

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

As the cold winds howl around our dwellings, and the earth even here in North Carolina is clothed in her mantle of white, the subject which heads this article presents itself as deserving the consideration and attention of every philanthropic mind. Are there any poor amongst us? Unquestionably there are. Are they provided for by law, that cold and hunger may not pinch their famished forms, while shivering babes cry in vain for bread! Are there any directors of the Poor? and if so, are they awake to their duties in this auspicious hour?

No enlightened and truly christian community will neglect providing for the necessities of the poor.

Individuals, prompted by a spirit of benevolence and true philanthropy, may do much, but the field is too broad, and the labors too arduous, to be left to individual effort; the public should through their proper servants be prepared for organized action, that not a case, however isolated, of actual suffering should remain unalleviated.

Living, as many do in open houses, with perhaps no wood to make a fire, nor means to procure it, or what is even worse, no meal to relieve the cravings of hunger of their little children, the husband and father, perhaps unable to procure work on account of the inclemency of the weather, rendering the case one of deeper commiseration.

If the law has provided for the poor, then those entrusted with authority should be up and doing that the suffering ones may not be necessitated as some now are, to beg their bread or fire-wood from door to door, or which would be worse, driven to the dishonorable and dire necessity of stealing to relieve their pressing wants.

By a prompt relief of this class the authorities, if clothed with the power by law, will be doing a noble and humanitarian work.

If no such means are provided then individuals and religious societies should take the subject into their own hands, for while money is lavishly expended in building and supporting churches, the poor must not be forgotten, indeed cannot be if the plain duties of the christian be practiced.

Remember the Poor. J.

E. CITY, Dec. 30th, 1870.

Foreign War News.

The war news from the 20th of December up to the 27th was quite meagre. From the papers of the 28th we see that a telegram from Dresden, of the 27th inst., says the General commanding the Saxon troops at Paris announces the opening of the bombardment of Fort Avron, the most advanced of the French forts on the east side, and distant from the city wall six miles. Mount Avron is an elevated position, a short distance in rear of the positions said to have been occupied by the French after the sortie of the 21st inst. Gen Manteuffel is pursuing the French in the North. Count Bismarck is said to have demanded of Switzerland a more rigid observance of neutral obligations. An outrage upon English vessels in the Seine by the Germans is reported, and much indignation is felt in England. They were colliers, and the Germans sunk them to block the chanel, after seizing and binding their crews.

From the papers of the 29th we learn that the bombardment of Fort Avron, near Paris, continues, and the French reply with vigor. The City of Berlin is in ecstacy over the opening of fire on the fortifications of Paris. Gen. Faidherbe has informed the French Minister of War that owing to the intensely cold weather he will encamp near Arras, to await a general movement throughout France for the relief of Paris and the deliverance of France. A London telegram says the Army of the North has concentrated around Arras. Gen. Chauzy, commanding one portion of the Army of the Loire, complains bitterly of the conduct of the Prussians. He denies that he was defeated, and avows the intention to take vengeance for the vandalism of the Germans. The latter visited St. Calais twenty-six miles from Le Mans, and, levyed a forced contribution upon the inhabitants.

From the papers of the 30th we learn that on the 28th, Mont. Avron, near Paris, was silent, but the other forts kept up a steady fire upon the German guns. The Berlin papers say this is the initial movemeat in the general bombardment, as the capture of Avron will greatly facilitate the reduction of other works. Paris advices by way of Tours say that new works constructed beyond Mont Valerian, on the west, sent shells beyond Versailles, the Prussian headquarters, which is now considered untenable by the latter. Balloon advices to the 27th represent the people determined on a vigorous defense. The cold was intense, and military operations were suspended in a great measure, but preparations for future operations, from which much is expected, were in progress. A Saxon battalion at Maison Blanche had been dislodged. As we have had no mail since Saturday we cannot give any late news from the war.

General Summary.

Artemus Ward said that he thought it rather improved a comic paper to print a joke now and then.

The Chicago Republican is out against the custom of a general kissing of a bride at a wedding, and calls it a "relic of barbarism."

A New York paper lately announced that Olive Logan had "married her uncle." What the editor wrote was "sprained her ancle."

On the 26 ult Rev. Albert Barnes, D. D., the distinguished theologan, died suddenly, in Philadelphia, at the age of seventy-two years.

The St. John, N. B. harbor ferries have been leased for twenty years, at $4,000 per annum, to the Western Extension Railway.

An enterprising itinerant chiropodist in Ohio has caused a wagon to be built like a human foot, and decked all over with corns and bunions.

A young female of St. Louis, being rather closely pressed by a detective a few evening since, swallowed a $1,000 note in order to escape detection.

Compelled to abandon Tours, the Provisional Government of France has removed to Bordeaux, where it can at least keep open communication with the sea.

A proud and loving father in the southern part of a Western State, in setting forth the accomplishments of his daughter, said she could "everlastingly paw a washboard like a mule."

Gov. Alcorn, of Mississppi, has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $500 each for the arrest and conviction of persons who have violated the law which prescribes the nature of the punishment to be inflicted on members of the Kuklux Klan.

A colored mail carier in Virginia was recently well shaken by a man for kicking his dog, "Look a here masser, said he, "you'd better be keerful how you shakes dis chile, cos when you shakes me, you shakes de whole of de United States; I carries de mail."

A child, about four years of age, who was abandoned by a wandering party of gypsies, last Summer, in Ottawa County Ohio, has since been in the family of a farmer residing in Ottawa, and he, thinking the little girl may have been stolen from her parents, has now advertised the fact.

Early on the morning of the 25th of December the Potswood Hotel, at Richmond, Va., was burned. The fire broke out before the guests were up, and a terrible panic ensued when they were awakened. Several persons are known to have been burned to death, and the fate of others is still uncertain. The pecuniary loss was upward of $700,000.

The new capital of West Virginia is apparently not over-supplied with hotels, as the citizens of Charleston have appointed a committee to provide accommodations for the members of the Legislature, and for the Judges and attorneys in attendance upon the Supreme Court. The Wheeling Intelligencer suggests that they are to be "boarded round."

A man living in Bristol, on the Virgitia border, after indulging in stimulants the other day, kicked one of his acquaintances across the State line into Tennessee. For this little unlawful diversion he was first arrested and fined in Goodson, Tenn., and on his return home was arrested and fined in Bristol.

$1,000 Reward is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended. For Bronchitis, severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty by its wonderful cures, and hundreds of the best physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. Sold by druggists.

Mrs. Stover, the daughter of Andy Johnson, who presided with so much quiet dignity for three years at the Capitol, is now Mrs. Brown, the wife of a country storekeeper in Greenville, Tenn. Mr. Brown is a plain and elderly looking gentleman, well to do through his dealings in dry goods, groceries, and notions. Andy Johnson's only living son, a youth seventeen or eighteen years of age, is a clerk in Mr. Brown's store.

There is a man living in the mountains of North Carolina, no more than forty miles from Greenville, S. C., says the Tarboro Carolinian, who has reached the extraordinary age of 143 years. At the time of Braddock's defeat he was twenty years old, and had a wife and three children. A gentlemen at Greenville, states that this man, who has come down to us from a former generation, has always been in moderate circumstance; lived upon a coarse vegetable diet; that he has never drank any liquid but spring water, and bids fair to live many years longer. He enjoys perfect health: possesses all of manhood's attributes, and wishes to marry. He has survived seven wives, and having lost his last one about sixty years ago, he now begins to feel quite lonely.

Private letters from Ex-Gov. Curtin, the American Minister at St. Petersburg, state that he recently paid a hurried visit to Sebastopol and examined the condition of the graves of the Americans who fell in the Russian service during the Crimean war. Four physicians were buried in one tomb in the old orthodox Church of the Transfiguration. The tomb is surmounted by a monument of red marble with the appropriate inscriptions: "To A. A. Marshall, of California; Henry Clark, of New York, D. T. Jones, of Maryland; C. A. Deininser, of Pennsylvania." At the top of the pyramid had been placed a ball and cross of white marble, which had fallen down and lay scattered. Gov. Curtin has had the necessary repairs made, and took precautions to secure its preservation in the future.

FOR SALE.

3000 Acras of unimproved land in Perquimans County North Carolina lying between the head waters of Perquimans and Little River. Could be easily drained.

Being rich land, well set in Cypress, Pine, Popar and Black Gum. The purchaser by connecting the two streams by canal, could attain a double object—drain his land and develope the rich mine of wealth growing upon it. Also two-thirds of a tract of 3000 acres lying in Pasquotank county N. C., adjoining the above tract, the Land & Lumber Co., owning one third. These valuable lands lie within a few miles of meeting and school houses, mills, smith-shops and navigation.

The contemplated Weldon and E. City, R. R., would pass through them, they lying directly between the two points. Will be sold either together or separately on reasonable terms and payments, or very low for cash.

Title good, an abstract of which will be sent without cost to any one desiring it.

For further information address

A Proclamation.
By his Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina.

Executive Department,
RALEIGH, Dec. 16th, 1870.

WHEREAS, information has been received at this Department that one Thomas Bailey, of Perquimans county, did sometime in the month of November last, commit a murder on the body of Abel G. Ferebee, citizen of said county; and whereas the said Bailey has escaped or so conceals himself that the process of law cannot be served upon him:

Now, therefore, I, W. W. HOLDEN, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of authority vested in me by law, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS for the apprehension and delivery of said Thomas Bailey to the proper authorities of Perquimans county, and I do enjoin all officers of the peace and each and every good citizen to aid in securing the ends of justice in this case.

Done at our City of Raleigh, this 16th day of December, one thousand eight (L. S.) hundred and seventy, and in the year of the Independedce of the United States the ninety-fifth.

W. W. Holden, Governor.

By the Governor:
J. B. NEATHERY, Private Secretary.

DESCRIPTION.

Thomas Bailey is about 38 years old, fair complexion, sandy hair and whiskers, 5 feet 7 inches high and weighs about 140 pounds.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DR. T. WHITE'S

Blood Purifyer, prepared by medicating a mineral water, ob ained from a spring in Talbot County, Maryland, with the bark of two trees of our forest. A decoction prepared from the bark of one, has long been known to be an antidote for the virous of the rattlesnake, and has been recently successfully tested in neutralizing the virous of a mad dog both on man and beast. Obtaining knowledge of the fact induced me to adopt it in my practice and I ascribe my success in curing Cancers, Tumors and all other scrofulous diseases, more to the internal use of that article than to anything else that can be done; for all such diseases originates in the blood and unless the blood can be cleansed a purmanent cure cannot be effected, and believing that an article that would neutralize the virous of a snake would purge any other poisonous matter from the human blood, I adopted the use of it in my practice with unequaled success.

DIRECTIONS.

Begin by taking half a table spoonful three times a day, before eating, and increase to a spoonfull as the stomach will bear it. If it induces costiveness take a small portion of some mild cathartic (purge) every other day. Always keep it where it will not freeze.

Sold wholesale and retail by Samuel Fox, near Easton, Md.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Talbot county, State of Maryland, do hereby certify that we have, each of us, been afflicted with a cancer and have been Doctered by Thomas White, M. D., greatly to our satisfaction. He uses no knife, but by cleansing the blood of Cancerous virus and then use of an external application, he kills the Cancer and causes it to slough out in a few days. We therefore feel in honor and duty bound to recommend him to the afflicted as a cautious, skillful

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisements this week:

Administrator's Notices.
To Those Indebted.
For Sale.
Guirkin & Co.

New York Advertisements.

Local and Personal.

☞ Hon. Judge POOL will hold Court at Currituck next week.

☞ "Up and doing" is a good business quality. Read the advertisements of our business men.

☞ The Post Master at Currituck, C. H., will accept our thanks for items of local interest. Let us hear from him often.

☞ It don't look well to see boys on their way to school with cigars or pipes in their mouths.

☞ "Better late than never" will apply to almost anything better than going to Church, or to see your sweetheart.

☞ On the coldest evening of the season there were eight couples married at this place. Sensible.

☞ The Turkey question was peacefully disposed of by a good many families in this City last week.

☞ Several more important purchases have been made here by Northern gentlemen during the past two weeks.

☞ See lands in Perquimans county advertised for sale in this issue of the NORTH CAROLINIAN.

☞ GUIRKIN & Co. have opened a Banking House in the Cobb Building on Road Street. See their advertisement.

☞ We have arrangements with the Publishers enabling us to supply any Magazine or Periodical published in this country, at their prices.

☞ There are some people who have the peculiarity of possessing three hands —a right hand, a left hand and a little brained-hand. They would be much better off without the last.

☞ Dr. COMMANDER returns his thanks to the public and especially to the ladies for their liberal patronage on the 24th ult., and he embraces this opportunity to say that whenever they need good Confectionaries he will be happy to supply them.

☞ By an Act of the General Assembly, past just at the adjournment for the holidays, the Municipal elections of the State were postponed until the first Monday of May next. Consequently no election was held here on Monday last. The old municipal officers hold over until the new election.

☞ We by no means expect every man reading our paper to endorse all we publish, or to agree to all we write; but we think that the most of them, after laying aside prejudice and continuing to read our paper carefully, will, in the end, acknowledge that we are on the right track after all. We are no extremist. Though firm in our own convictions we respect the honest opinions of others. Instead of abusing those who differ from us we prefer the course of the old Philosopher—"let us reason together."

☞ Quite an unusual business was done here in the matrimonial line during the holidays. Mr. CULPEPPER, the Register, issued the following licenses to couples desirous of sailing together down the river of life. On one instance the groom was 79 and his bride only 19:

David H. Hewit, to Mariam Heath; Miles Turner, to Mary Nixon; George Thomas, to Mary E. Skinner; William Wood, to Nency Riddick; Jno. T. Avery, to Lucinda Raper; Jno. A. Hollowell, to Ella J. White; Geo. Ed. Hinton, to Mary G. Proctor; Miles Irvine, to Jane Brown; Rev. W. W. Kennedy, to Mayant D. Dance; Frank Johnson, to Harriet Etheridge; Capt. T. M. Wise, Emiline Purdy.

☞ Weater prophets have all along been predicting a severe winter, and we have it. The "colder inhabitants" inform us that the weather has been colder and that we have had more snow than has been experienced for thirteen years. The Canal has been frozen over, an event that has not occured since 1857. The boys have been enjoying the sport of skating and for two or three days, we saw sleds, filled with pleasure seekers, on our streets. It reminded us of Pennsylvania. Those who claim to know tell us that this weather is indicative of good crops and good health the coming summer.

☞ We notice the following Northern arrivals since our last issue: E. D. BENEDICT and family from Austinville, Pa.; JACOB DUNKEL and DAVID K. BOAS from Carlisle, Pa.; JASON KIRK from Clearfield, Pa.; DR. F. TOMPKINS from Penn Yan, N. Y.; SAMUEL MITCHELL from Havane, N. Y.; D. CANFIELD and wife from Tioga, Pa.; J. D. WEED from Candor, N. Y.; MR. FERGUSON from Bradford, Pa.; MR. PALMER from Elk-Run, Pa.; DANIEL VAUGHAN from Berdett, N. Y. and S. J. GREGORY from Hector, N. Y.

☞ We have had no mail at this writing—Wednesday evening—since Saturday. Is there no remedy for these irregularities and delays? Is the postal service intended for the accomodation of the public, or is it an institution to be regulated for the convenience of those who have contracted to carry the mail? We should like to have this question settled. Thus cut off from the news of the outer world, it is difficult for us to publish a news paper, and all the business men of the City are complaining because of the delay in their correspondence. We repeat, is there no remedy.

☞ We call special attention to the communications in this issue of our paper. They both treat on subjects that should claim the attention of all.

☞ Our Poplar Branch correspondent complains of "thieving Post Masters." His first remittance never reached this office; his last one is at hand. Thanks.

☞ We regret to learn that on the 19th ult., Mr. SAMUEL WILSON, of Moyock, N. C., was thrown from his horse and so injured that he died in 45 minutes after. He was aged about 21 years and was generally esteemed.

☞ Senator POOL spent the holidays at his home in this City. He left for Washington on Monday morning. He is one of the ablest members of the United States Senate.

☞ Court was held in Camden last week. At the request of the Members of the Bar, and as there was but little business, His Honor Judge POOL did not open the Court until Wednesday morning.

☞ Those of our exchanges in the habit of copying whole articles of ours without giving credit, ought at least to notice the fact that the NORTH CAROLINIAN is the best newspaper in the State and that the subscription price is only Two Dollars when paid in advance.

☞ We learn that the work on the Edenton and Suffolk railroad is going on encouragingly. As our road will connect with it, we feel an interest in its early completion. It won't be a great while before we will have the fulb benefits of railroad communication. The prospects are growing brighter and brighter.

☞ Hon. C. L. COBB left again for the National Capital on Wednesday. He is making his mark in Congress. Indeed we learn from various sources that he is one of the ablest members of the South ern delegation. Of course we feel a little pride that our town should have the honor of furnishing so distinguished a Representative. Yet higher honors a wait Mr. COBB.

☞ On Sat urday night last, at midnight, a perso nage intimately known to every body in Elizabeth City quietly passed aw ay. As the clock ceased tolling the hour of twelve he ceased to live. The efforts of friends were unavailing, his time had come, he had to die. He came here on the first of January last. He remained with us just one year. His name was 1870.

☞ A former resident of our City on writing us on business adds:

"I understand through letters from friends that many improvements are going on in Elizabeth City, and am glad to hear so. I trust that they will continue, and that old inhabitants and new settlers will continue to draw nearer and nearer to one another and become as one people."

To all of which we respond most heartily Amen! There is no section in the South improving more rapidly and nowhere is there a more cordial greeting extended to "new settlers."

☞ When we began to speak with enthusiasm of the future that would bloom for the enterprises inaugurated in our City and prophecied that out of the waste places of the ruins around as there would arise a star of life and prosperity whose genial influences would extend far and wide, Old Fogies smiled in contemptuous incredulity and called as an enthusiast and a dreamer. But already are our redictions being fulfilled; improvements have been made, and the spirit of progressive Enterprise has been awakened to a degree exciting those same Old Fogies to open their eyes in wonderment, and we will not be at all surprised to find some o' them "wheeling about" to help us push the Car of Progress forward.

☞ Our readers know that we feel some interest in our Public Schools. We have been visiting those in town and hope to be able to visit the balance in the county before the winter term closes. Much credit is due FRANK VAUGHAN Esq., our efficient and wide awake County Examiner, for the advancement and improved condition of these schools. To a very great extent he has been obliged to labor single handed and alone. In removing the popular prejudice, systematising the system, and adapting it to our present needs he has accomplished a great deal. He should have the full and hearty co-operation of every friend of Education in the county. It is a subject in which all are interested.

A WANT NEVER BEFORE SUPPLIED.—In the South where Liver Complaint and Bilious diseases prevail to so great an extent, there has long been felt the need of a medicine that would act specifically and promptly on the Liver, restoring it to its normal functions, and at the same time be saf from after effects, and yet so simple that it might be used by any one. It is now admitted by all that Dr. TUTT'S Vegetable Liver Pills supplies this want. They are now prescribed by the most eminent Physicians throughout the whole South.

My hair was falling off, I used two bottles of Nature's Hair Restorative and it checked it at once. It is clean, safe and efficient. If your druggist has not got it, send direct to PROCTER BROS., Gloucester, Mass. See advertisement.

DENTAL NOTICE.—Business demanding my attention at the North I will leave on the 10th of February to be absent until the latter part of March. I make this announcement that persons wishing work done may call before that time.

I. T. ANDREWS,
E. City, Jan. 5, 1871-4t. Dentist.

Minnesota papers tell a sad story of a little girl and boy who wandered away from the house of their father in Morrison County in that State, and subsequently were found dead by the Indians. The boy lay on his back, having apparently died without much suffering. The girl had taken her rings from her ears, and wrapping them with a lock of her hair in a small piece of cloth, had put the little parcel in her pocket, and then lain down and died from cold, hunger and exposure.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1871, for distribution gratis, throughout the United States, and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the cause, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, and planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world. 28–3t

BUCHU.—The best and cheapest Buchu in the United States is that prepared by Dromgoole & Co. For all diseases of the urinary organs, its action is quick, powerful and satisfactory. The Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, milky, ropy, or bloody urine, frequent desire to urinate, difficulty and pain in urinating, burning pain about the region of the bladder, pain and weakness in the small of the back, effects of habits of dissipation, and all kindred complaints, it acts in such a manner as to gain confidence of physicians and others. One bottle will cure any ordinary case. Price $1, or six for $5. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. 28–4t

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The advertiser, having been permanently cured of that dread disease, Consumption, by a simple remedy, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c.

Parties wishing the prescription will please address
Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON,
22-1y. 165 South Second Street, Williamsburg, Pa.

MARRIAGE GUIDE.—Every one his own Doctor. A private instructor for married persons or those about to be married, both male and female, in everything concerning the physiology and relations of our sexual system, and the production and prevention of off-spring, including all the new discoveries never before given in the English language, by Wm. Young, M. D. This is really a valuable and interesting work. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with numerous engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with; still it is a book that must be locked up and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any address on receipt of 50cts. Address Dr. Wm. Young, No. 416 Spruce Street above Fourth, Philadelphia. 19—6m.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.—A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence,

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 42 Cedar Street, New York.

Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death itself and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used on an emergency, when the sensinal principle lodged in the system shall develope itself, and we feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease. Such a remedial agent exists in the Pain Killer, whose fame has made the circuit of the globe. Amid the eternal ices of the polar regions or beneath the intolerable and burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. Under all latitudes, from the one extreme to the other, suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills by its use. The wide and broad area over which this medicine has spread, attests its value and potency. From a small beginning, the Pain Killer has pushed gradually along, making its own highway, solely by its virtues.

Such unexampled success and popularity has brought others into the field, who have attempted, under similarity of name, to usurp the confidence of the people and turn it to their own selfishness and dishonesty, but their efforts have proved fruitless, while the Pian Killer is still growing in public favor. 28—1m.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

The Land and Lumber Co.

Water Street,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In again presenting our list of lands and other property for sale, we repeat that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A large new brick building in the town of Elizabeth City, on Water street, opposite the market house, and one of the most eligible locations in the town for the mercantile business. The building is 70 feet long by 35 feet wide The lower story is neatly fitted up with shelves, drawers, counters, &c., for a store, and the second story is finely finished with parlor, sitting room, and four good size bed rooms—all in perfect order. There is nearly a half acre of land that goes with it, and in the rear of the store, is a good two story wood building, cook house, pantries, dairy, &c., and such modern fixtures as will render a family able to live in good style. It is one of the best stands in the town for a merchant, wholesale, or retail. The party owning it is largely in debt, and compelled to sell, hence it is offered at the low price of $3.200, one half cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Possession given immediately.

For a merchant who wishes to make money at the mercantile business rapidly, who desires to settle in the most rapidly rising town in North Carolina; who wishes to enjoy good society, live in a strong union community where Northern men and their families are received both in the social and business circles, on equal footing with the most favored of our own people; and where the climate is the most genial and healthful to be found anywhere, this is the place to come and buy. And then too it is at a point suited for all sorts of business, being in direct water communication with twenty of the richest counties in the State, and having a harbor with water 40 feet deep, and in easy and cheap access with all the civilized world. A point possessing all these advantages, and many more, too numerous to mention, and for property so cheap as this, is an inducement offered, unparalleled in any part of the United States.

A large brick building nearly new, and well built, in the town of Elizabeth City, three stories high, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, with a wing 40 feet square, situated in the business part of the town, and within forty yards of the wharf where steamers and sailing vessels are arriving and departing nearly every hour in the day. The daily line of steamers from Norfolk to E. City, have their depot and landing at this wharf. There is vacant land enough adjoining for sale at low prices to make over two acres. There is nearly a half acre that will go with this property.

This is the finest building in the town for a large hotel and is the most eligibly located for that purpose. And, since four hotels were burned here during the war, and the business is now imperfectly carried on, this is a splendid opening for a person to make a large amount of money at hotel keeping. This building commands a view of the river for miles, and all the shipping in the port can be seen from it. It is offered at forced sale at $7.500, one half cash, balance in one and two years, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3.000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $8.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

One of the most desirable, and at the present, best paying farms in Eastern North Carolina, is offered for sale; situated in Perquimans co. N. C., 12 miles from E. City, and two from Perquimans river, embracing a large portion of the celebrated Turkey Ridge body, and being elegantly adapted to the growth and culture of corn, wheat, oats, peas, cotton and clover, and the various grasses. Nearly the entire farm is under a system of successful culture, with good fences, well drained, having on it a good dwelling with 4 rooms, several good tenant houses and the necessary out-houses, together with a barn, 36 by 70 feet, with machine shelter attached, 30 by 70 feet, stables 28 by 50, and blacksmith shop. 600 acres is under cultivation and 100 acres in grass pasture. There is also deadened and in condition to be reduced to cultivation about 200 acres of naturally the most fertile land in this whole country, the balance in nice timber, in all about 1,400 acres. The object of the owner in offering this valuable estate for sale, is this: He has another large farm on which he resides, and is also a practicing physician, which necessarily requires his whole time and personal attention, and wishes to relieve himself of this extra anxiety and care. To a party seeking a permanent investment, or to those wishing to establish a small colony, this plantation holds out peculiar inducements. If desired, the stock of horses, mules, oxen, hogs, corn and fodder now on the farm, together with all the necessary farming implements will be sold with it at reasonable rates. This property with the improvements, cost, before the war, $45.000, and is now offered for $28.000. Terms —one-fourth cash, residue in one, two and three years from date of sale.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15.000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3.500, $7.00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

Two valuable tracts of land in Perquimans county, N. C., nearly opposite each other, one containing 535 acres with fine buildings, and valued at $7.000 the other has 558 acres, with ordinary buildings, land good, sold at forced sale for $5,000 cash. There is a great bargain in these tracts of land, and emigrants are especially invited to look at them early.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

Another valuable farm in Perquimans county, containing 500 acres, immediately on a deep navigable River, 15 miles from Elizabeth City, and 8 miles from Hertford, with good buildings, one half the land cleared, balance in the finest pine, cypres, oak and other timber. Price only $5,000, $2,000 cash, balance in one and two years. Adjoining the above is another valuable timber tract for sale containing 200 acres, for $2,000 terms easy.

A valuable store property for sale at Newbegun Creek, with large fine store, good new two story dwelling, all necessary out-houses, and 30 acres of fine land. This is one of the best stands for a country merchant in the State. This property is on navigable water, 10 miles from Elizabeth City. It is offered at forced sale for $3,000, one half cash, balance in twelve months. Possession given immediately.

A valuable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City, N C., containing an acre of ground, with two grape vines, large number of peach and apple trees, house two stories high, new, has six rooms, all in good order, necessary out buildings, and on a principal street. Price $2,000 cash, Jan. 1st, next when possession can be given.

A valuable farm in Camden county, near the County-seat, and close to navigable water. It has upon it a large new two story dwelling, good kitchen, dairy, smokehouse, large barn and stables, &c., &c. The farm contains 800 acres, about one-half cleared, balance well set in pine and other timber. There is a fine saw and grist mill propelled by water power within one mile of the dwelling, and a fine church and school-house within about the same distance.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Good to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm in Perquimans county, N. C., 10 miles from E. City, contain ng 1,000 acres. This farm is adapted to raising corn, cotton, and wheat, has a fine large barn, with fair outhouses, is immediately on a public road, near a thriving village, within a mile of a fine church and school house, is one-half cleared, the balance abounds in yellow pine, ash, oak and other valuable timber, is within one mile of navigable water. Price $12,000—one-half cash, balance in one and two years, with interest.

A splended site for a hotel in the town of E. City, where one formerly stood, on the corner on the intersection of the two principal streets in the City is offered for sale at $1.800. Four hotels having been burned in the town during the war, and the business now being very imperfectly managed, this is a desirable property, and the business would be a very remunerative one. This is the finest opening for a good hotel to be found any where in the whole locality.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

A valuable small farm ½ of a mile from E. City, containing about 47 acres all cleared but about 6 acres, and in a good state of improvement. Lies high, well drained, medium buildings, a good well of water. A very desirable property. Price $50 per acre in payments. Possession given Jan'y. 1st 1871.

A valuable farm at Woodville, 8 miles from E. City, immediately on navigable water and containing 140 acres of land, mostly cleared. It has upon it a two-story dwelling in fine order, containing eight rooms, good outhouses, and a fine store—new, and also a gate by thirty feet. There is a school house and church in the village, with three stores and several highly respectable families live there. This is probably one of the best stands for a retail country store to be found anywhere. There are also in the village two steam saw and grist mills of good size, a carriage and wagon factory, &c. Price $2,500; one-third cash, balance in one and two years.

Immediately adjoining the above in the same village, is another store for sale at $2,000 on same terms. This store is about 30 by 50 feet, and has a dwelling attached and above the store containing six good rooms, all in good order. There is also a large warehouse belonging to the property, and a sufficient number of good outhouses to render a family comfortable. There are two acres of land attached to this property.

A splended tract of land in Pasquotank county, N. C., six miles from Elizabeth City, containing 400 acres, 300 of which are cleared. This is probably the most valuable farm in this section of the State. There are upon it a fine dwelling, five tenant houses, barn, stables, &c. Ninety acres of this tract are now well set in red clover. Will produce from thirty to fifty bushels of corn, and half as much wheat, per acre, and is the best cotton farm in North Carolina. Price $30 per acre, in easy payments.

Lots Nos. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21.—These are town lots in Elizabeth City, N. C., containing one acre of land each, and having upon them comfortable one story houses in each lot, with three or four rooms to each house, with garden, cook-house, &c. Price $300 to $400 each. Terms liberal, and possession at any time.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Price and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling house with ten rooms, in splended order; with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A tract of land containing sixty acres one mile from E. City, immediately on the River, and binding a public road on two sides. The farm has a good one story dwelling and out-houses, a quantity of fruit trees, and has a fence around it that will last for fifty years. The adjoining farm is owned and occupied by a Northern man, and although containing twenty acres less land than the farm he has refused $5,000 cash for it. The first named tract is offered for sale for a division, and at the low price of $2,400.

Another tract adjoining the above, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servants' house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immense profit this year, en acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $50 per acre according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rockfish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. The fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. There are 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

The lot is well set in flowers and has a profusion of shrubbery about it that "Shenstone might have envied." Taking it altogether, this is probably the most desirable property for a private family, that is now offered for sale. The price is 3000,00 cash. Possession given at any time.

The New-York Tribune 1871.

Through struggle and suffering, at the cost of multiform agonies, bereavements, devastation, the American Idea embodied in the preamble to our fathers' Declaration of Independence approaches its complete realization. The noble, inspiring assertion that "all men are created equal," and endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuits of happiness, is no longer a glittering generality, a poet's fancy, a philosopher's speculation, but the recognized base of our political fabric. The benigned Revolution, which dates from the Boston Massacre of 1770, finds its logical completion, just one century later, in the XVth Amendment, which gives to the equal political and civil rights of every man born or naturalized in our Republic the shield and defense of the Federal Constitution. The billows of Caste and Privilege may roar and rage around that rock, and may transiently seem on the point of washing it away; but its foundations are deepiaid and steadfast, and the breakers of Reaction and Slavery are hurled against and dash their spray over it in vain.

We do not underrate the forces of Paejudice and Aristocracy. We do not forget that a very large minority of the American People still hold in their inmost hearts that Blacks have no rights which Whites are bound to respect. We fully appreciate the desperation wherewith all the warring elements of hatred to Republican achievement will be combined and hurled against the battlements of Republican ascendency in the Presidential Election of 1872. We do not doubt that local successes, facilitated by Republican feud and dissensions, will inspire the charging host with a sanguine hope of victory, such as nerved it to put forth its utmost strength in the earlier stages of the contests of 1864 and 1868. Yet our faith is clear and strong that the American People still bless God that, on the red battle-fields of our late Civil War, the Union was upheld and Slavery destroyed, and will never consciously decide that the precious blood thereon poured out was lavished in vain.

The Tribune believes in the prosecution of the great struggle by legitimate means to beneficent ends. To State Sovereignty, it opposes indissoluble National Integrity; to Slavery for Blacks, Liberty for All; to Proscription, Enfranchisement; to Popular Ignorance, Universal Education; to intensity and eternity of wrathful Hate, universal and invincible Good Will. It would fain do its utmost to hasten the glad day when the South shall vie with the North in exultation and gratitude over the disappearance of the last trace or taint of that spirit which impelled Man to exult in the ownership and chattlehood of his fellow Man.

Profoundly do we realize that the contest is not yet ended—that Millions mourn, more or less publicly, the downfall of the slaveholders' Confederacy, and rear their children to hate those by whose valor and constancy its overthrow was achieved. If we ever seem to differ essentially from other Republicans, our conviction that magnanimity is never weakness, that vengence is never politic, and that devils are not cast out in Belzebub, must serve to explain alleged eccentricities whose perfect vindication we leave to Time and Reflection.

The Tribune has been, is, and must be, a zealous advocate of Protection to Home Industry. Regarding habitual idleness as the greatest foe to human progress, the bane of human happiness, we seek to win our countrymen in masses from the ensnaring lures of Speculation, of Traffic, and of always overcrowded Professions, to the tranquil paths of Productive Industry. We would gladly deplete our overcrowded cities, where thousands vainly jostle and crowd in misguded quest of "Something to Do," to cover prairies and plains with colonies absorbed in Agriculture, Mechanics and Manufactures, and constantly projecting into the blank, void wilderness the home and the works of civilized Man. Holding the Protection of Home Industry by discriminating duties on imported Wares and Fabrics essential to the rapid, beneficent diffusion of Production in all its phases and departments, and so to the instruction of our people in all the gainful arts of Peace, we urge our countrymen to adhere to and uphold that policy, in undoubting faith that the true interest, not of a class or a section, but of each section and every useful class, is thereby subserved and promoted..

The Tribune aims to be preeminently a News-paper. Its correspondents traverse every State, are present on every important battle-field, are early advised of every notable Cabinet decision, observe the proceedings of Congress, of Legislatures, and of Conventions, and report to us by telegraph all that seems of general interest. We have paid for one day's momentous advices from Europe by Cable far more than our entire recipts for the issue in which those advices reach our readers. If lavish outlay, unsleeping vigilance, and unbounded faith in the liberality and discernment of the reading public, will enable us to make a journal which has no superior in the accuracy, variety, and freshness of its contents, The Tribune shall be such a journal.

To Agriculture and the subservient arts, we have devoted, and shall persistently devote, more means and space than any of our rivals. We aim to make the Weekly Tribune such a paper as no farmer can afford to do without, however widely his politics may differ from ours. Our reports of the Cattle, Horse, Produce and General Markets, are so full and accurate, our essays in elucidation of the farmer's calling, and our regular reports of the Farmer's Club and kindred gatherings, are so interesting, that the poorest farmer will find therein a mine of suggestions and counsel, of which he cannot remain ignorant without positive and serious loss. We sell the Weekly to Clubs for less than its value in dwellings for waste-paper; and, though its subscription is already very large, we believe that a Half Million more farmers will take it whenever it shall be commended to their attention. We ask our friends everywhere to aid us in so commending it.

MEDICAL.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, May 5th, 1870.

Allow me to call your attention to my

PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.

The component parts are, BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of the ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflamation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist,
of 16 Years' Experience.

(FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS IN THE WORLD.)

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Manufacturing Chemists,
Ninth and Brown streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

Is the great specific for Universal Lassitude, Prostration, &c.

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

Is affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chloro-is, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superceding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

HAVING SECURED THE SERVICES OF THE

best mechanics in each of the departments, and giving my own particular attention to all work done at my shop, I feel safe in saying that my work will compare favorably with that of any of the large cities. All I ask is an examination of my work to convince those in want of any kind of a vehicle that this is the place to buy them.

Repairing done at short notice and at reasonable rates. Give me a call.

FARMERS ATTENTION!

It is demonstrated that the land in East North Carolina can be much improved by subsoiling. Burnham and Pierce's celebrated Patent subsoil Plow is just what is needed. It is especially adapted for our soil. The subscriber is the sole owner of the Patent for Pasquotank county, and is prepared to furnish them on short notice. Call and examine for yourselves. For reference call on Geo. D. Pool, or C. W. Hollowell.

NOTICE TO OUR PATRONS AND

THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

We take pleasure in stating that our success in business thus far, has greatly exceeded our most sanguine expectations, and the public having been so liberal in their patronage to us, we cheerfully return to them our thanks, and we hope that our future conduct will be such as to merit a continuation of their confidence and patronage. We still keep a large and well assorted stock of goods in our line, and we think that our stock of

PATENT MEDICINES,

Paints, Oils and Glass, cannot be surpassed in this City, and we intend that our stock shall be sufficient to supply all demands.

WE ORDER GOODS EVERY WEEK, and parties wishing articles not on hand can have them by leaving their orders with us, and it will give us pleasure to accommodate them.

The especial attention
